ABOUT RICHARD E. SIMMONS

Biography

Richard's greatest passion is to help men.

In 1976, he graduated from the University of the South in Sewanee, Tennessee with a degree in Economics, and worked for 25 years in the property and casualty insurance brokerage business. As a businessman and CEO, he recognized how so many men experienced the tension of living the Christian life in a business environment that at times can be quite ruthless.

Seeking to help men develop and move towards spiritual maturity, Richard founded The Center for Executive Leadership in 2000, a non-profit, faith-based ministry in Birmingham, Alabama. Since then, Richard has mentored and discipled thousands of men and continues to impact lives with an approach that is structured and methodical through writing, teaching, and speaking across the country. His best selling titles include The True Measure of a Man, The Power of a Humble Life, and his newest book, Reflections on the Existence of God.

Personal Statement

My faith has truly increased because of the knowledge in my book Reflections on the Existence of God.

There's a really important place for knowledge in all of this. My mission is to simply be a laborer in the harvest; to be a fisher of men. I want to bear fruit for God (Romans 7:4) and make Him known and His saving truth known throughout the world.

Through this book, I pray that God will expand our borders, multiply our seed for sowing, and open up doors to share these truths. For those who read and listen to the content in this book, I pray that God would edify, strengthen, and enlighten us to new truth and that all readers (myself included) will be transformed by the power of the Holy Spirit.

My desire is to make Him known and His saving truth known throughout the world. May this book be an instrument of this mission.
